An Invitation

Again we extend to every lover of good livestock a special invitation to be with us on Monday and Tuesday, February 19-20, for the Annual Iowa State Shorthorn Breeders Show and Sale to be held in a heated Sale Pavilion at the Fairgrounds northwest of Knoxville on Highway 14.

This year all the cattle have been inspected before being accepted for the sale by Clem Larson, with the result that fifty have been accepted out of one hundred and seventeen head that were listed for the sale previous to the inspection so you can rest assured that you will find an offering of sale cattle that will equal or surpass any offering of cattle that has been assembled for a sale in a great many years.

Due to travel restrictions and stormy weather the photographer was unable to get around on time to take pictures of the sale cattle before the catalog had to go to press, so we had to use pictures of the sires instead, you will note that each lot is sired by a bull of the most approved type, color and breeding ability, which will add value and merit to the herds into which they will go, we sincerely hope you can attend this sale, the consignors will be happy to see you, they have worked very hard to make this a quality offering.

Iowa Shorthorn Breeders Ass'n
Chas. Garden, Sale Manager.

Knoxville is on the Burlington Railroad.
